Memo

Business and technology programs are growing at Black Hills State University. In addition to the business administration, BHSU offers an Entrepreneurial Studies Program. This emphasis offers hands on learning for students to start their own businesses as well as assist existing businesses in becoming more successful. Black Hills State faculty are active in local, regional, and national Business professional organizations and with the Spearfish Area Chamber of Commerce.

In addition, Black Hills State University offers more than 80 majors and minors beyond business & technology, including performing arts, mass communication, teacher education, wellness, physical sciences, psychology, social sciences, and music. More than 73% of the total student population are employed while enrolled at BHSU, creating a labor pool of more than 2,500 employees in the northern Black Hills. The teacher education program has taken a leadership role in integrating technology into teaching and learning, offering an online master's degree in educational technology.

Memo

The South Dakota School of Mines and Technology specializes in engineering and science degrees. More than 85 percent of all students at SDSM&T gain real world experience before graduating.

In addition to boasting a high percent of student internships, all students are required to accomplish a yearlong senior design project. Students work with companies such as Boeing, Dow Chemical and Hutchinson Technology on solving company problems.

*Nearly 30 majors, minors and options are available
 *More than 60 percent of the students enrolled at SDSM&T hold a job, creating a labor pool of nearly 1,500
 *More than 90 percent of the SDSM&T alumni surveyed said they would welcome the opportunity to live and work in South Dakota

Memo

In 1969, the Rosebud Sioux Tribal Council passed a resolution in support of a junior college, and the University of South Dakota at Vermillion and Black Hills State College at Spearfish were contacted to begin arrangements for the accreditation of selected courses. Together with the Science Center and the Library/Media Center, these offices comprise a central campus from which to serve the people of the Rosebud Sioux Reservation. Administrative offices remain in Rosebud. A branch campus is maintained in Winner, South Dakota
